Malaysian Domestic Trade and Cost of Living (KPDN) minister Datuk Seri Salahuddin Ayub has announced affordable insurance and takaful packages under the Putrajaya Rahmah initiative, with the packages coming from Allianz Genera, Etiqa General, and Etiqa General Takaful.

The packages were once hinted at by Ayub a few months prior as part of the Rahmah scheme, the government program designed to help out B40 groups in the country. The package provides coverage of personal accidents up to RM50,000 and benefits including reimbursement of medical expenses at government hospitals. Emergency relief payments of up to RM750 are also available in the event of a flood evacuation, depending on the plan of choice.

"The new benefit is added at no additional cost with an annual premium at the rate of RM53.50 and RM79.50, including sales tax," Ayub said in a report from Malay Mail.

Allianz is also offering a MotorcyclePlus coverage of RM10,000 for both rider and passenger as well as hospital allowance through a policy based on the registered motorcycle engine capacity. Those who purchase the insurer's comprehensive policy can also enjoy all benefits of the MotorcyclePlus package, including other benefits such as special perils coverage, roadside assistance, and flood relief benefits.

"I think those in the gig economy, such as FoodPanda and Grab, should come forward to get this protection since many of them use motorcycles," Ayub said.

Etiqa, is also offering a takaful package which provides compensation for disability or death due to accidents or illnesses, with coverage of up to RM80,000. It costs RM5 monthly, or RM36 annually, sales tax included. Ayub said that these packages are available to Malaysians aged between 16 and 65 years, renewable until the policyholder is 70 years old.

"KPDN hopes that all plans offered through these two initiatives will help support more Malaysians, especially those in the B40, to own insurance or takaful coverage, next to applying the importance of owning insurance or takaful for the protection of one's self and property," he said.

PUTRAJAYA, June 22 — Domestic Trade and Cost of Living (KPDN) Minister Datuk Seri Salahuddin Ayub today announced several affordable insurance and takaful packages under Putrajaya's Rahmah initiative, provided by Allianz General Insurance Bhd, Etiqa General Insurance Bhd, and Etiqa General Takaful Bhd.

The Rahmah Insurance Package provides coverage for personal accidents up to RM50,000 and benefits including reimbursement of medical expenses at government hospitals and emergency relief payments in the event of flood evacuation up to RM750 depending on the chosen plan, he told reporters at a press conference at his ministry here.

"The new benefit is added at no additional cost with an annual premium at the rate of RM53.50 and RM79.50, including sales tax," he said.

He added that Allianz is also offering a MotorcyclePlus additional coverage of RM10,000 for both the rider and passenger as well as a hospital allowance through an insurance policy based on the registered motorcycle engine capacity.

Those who opt for Allianz's MotorcyclePlus Comprehensive Policy will enjoy all benefits of the MotorcyclePlus package on top of special perils coverage and roadside assistance of up to 50km and flood relief benefits of up to RM1,000 without costs.,

"I think those in the gig economy, such as FoodPanda and Grab, should come forward to get this protection since many of them use motorcycles," he said.

Etiqa is offering a Rahmah Insurance Package of its own along with a Rahmah Takaful Package which provides compensation for disability or death due to accidents or illnesses of up to RM80,000 with the payment of RM5 monthly or RM36 annually, inclusive of sales tax.

Salahuddin said both packages are available to Malaysians aged between 16 and 65 years and can be renewed until the policy holder is 70 years of age.

"KPDN hopes that all plans offered through these two initiatives will help support more Malaysians, especially those in the B40, to own insurance or takaful coverage, next to applying the importance of owning insurance or takaful for the protection of one's self and property," he said.

The Payung Rahmah initiative was introduced in January this year as a short-term strategy for mitigating the inflation squeeze for those in the bottom 40 per cent of income earners (B40).

Soon after the launch of Menu Rahmah, an initiative which provided meals for RM5, Salahuddin reportedly announced that the initiative had attracted the interests of other sectors.

It has since grown to include fast food brands, eyewear, automotive services and hypermarket discounts, among others.

(KPDN), Datuk Seri Salahuddin Ayub, has ushered in a new era of affordable insurance and takaful packages. Offered under the Rahmah Initiative and facilitated by the notable Allianz General Insurance Bhd, Etiqa General Insurance Bhd, and Etiqa General Takaful Bhd, these packages signal a promising development for the Malaysian population.

The Rahmah Insurance Package is a game-changer, offering coverage for personal mishaps up to RM50,000. This comprehensive package includes benefits such as medical expense reimbursements at government healthcare facilities and emergency assistance during flood evacuations up to RM750, dependent on the selected plan.

Moreover, Allianz has stepped up with an additional MotorcyclePlus offer, ensuring an extra coverage of RM10,000 for both riders and passengers. This includes a hospital allowance, policy-based on the registered motorcycle engine capacity, and special perils coverage, all without any hidden costs.

The gig economy workers using motorcycles, such as FoodPanda and Grab employees, are encouraged to benefit from this protection. Etiqa is also contributing its own Rahmah Insurance Package and a Rahmah Takaful Package. With a minimal fee of RM5 monthly or RM36 annually, policyholders can secure compensation for disability or death due to accidents or illnesses up to RM80,000.

Open to Malaysians aged between 16 and 65, these policies can be renewed until the policyholder reaches 70. As the KPDN hopes, these packages will enable more Malaysians, especially those in the B40 demographic, to possess their own insurance or takaful coverage.

Earlier this year, the Payung Rahmah initiative was launched as a short-term strategy to alleviate the burden of inflation for those in the B40 income bracket. Following its successful implementation, the initiative has expanded to encompass other sectors, providing various benefits including discounted meals and services.

The partnership enables insurance intermediaries to distribute digitally.

Singapore-headquartered insurtech Surer has partnered with Etiqa for the digital expansion of motor insurance coverage.

This integration enables intermediaries to instantly obtain quotes for motor insurance and present them to clients, along with a streamlined payment process, all within a fully digital framework.

In addition to their collaboration on Motor insurance, the partnership between Etiqa and Surer will extend to other insurance products, such as Maid and Travel insurance.

"Surer and Etiqa hold a shared vision to better serve policyholders by supercharging intermediaries with tech; to give them an easier and quicker way to source for the best options for their customers. This takes on greater importance in the Motor segment given how competitive the space is, where it makes up 22.2% of General Insurance in Singapore." said Surer co-founder Derren Teo.

Etiqa teams up with UBX to offer pioneering ‘Insure Now, Pay Later’

Roderick Abad · June 10, 2023 · 35 views · 2 minute read

INSURETECH advocate Etiqa Philippines has tied up with open finance platform provider UBX to offer insurers an alternative payment of premiums in a more flexible manner to cope up with the increasing cost of living and credit interest rates.

Inflation rate in the Philippines reached 8.6 percent in February of this year—the highest in Southeast Asia. As it weakens the nation’s economic growth, this adds to the burden of ordinary Filipinos in battling higher prices for their basic daily expenses, not to mention the loan interest of those indebted.

These mounting circumstances eventually affect their spending appetite for other needs like insurance premiums if ever they avail of such. With this in mind, insurers are challenged to lower their costs, if not change their pricing, to reach more clients.

“Whether it was about their health, incomes, or properties, Filipinos have battled with different uncertainties in the last three years. This reality has further highlighted the need for insurers to take added measures to bring insurance closer to the average Filipino. This has been the industry’s mission since the beginning,” said Noel Tordesillas, head of e-channel in Etiqa Philippines.

In doing so, the company has taken a cue from the success of the Buy Now, Pay Later (BNPL) scheme, wherein consumers aiming to spread out the cost of big-ticket purchases can get their urgent needs and defer their payments to a later time sans any interest. From only $18 billion in 2020, this business model is seen to grow by 14 percent annually to $44 billion in 2027 worldwide.

“As we join this thrust, we have made it a point to align with partners within and outside the industry who share our vision—to empower more Filipinos to achieve financial security, especially amid inflation, through digital solutions and technology,” he noted.

Through its pioneering “Insure Now, Pay Later” scheme, Etiqa’s policyholders can now settle their premiums on an installment basis in a seamless way thanks to BUx’s end-to-end payment solutions platform and Splix’s transact-now-pay-later platform.

With or without credit cards, clients can break their dues into smaller sums. This is even more convenient with the 60,000 payment channels of BUx that allow them to settle their dues via online banking, e-wallets, or over-the-counter.

“While payment and collections are the primary thrust of this partnership, through UBX we can bridge technologies from different industries—fintech to insurtech—for the benefit of the public. Not only that, we were also able to provide a less intimidating payment plan and an additional smooth and touchless payment platform for consumers. We are positive that this process would further ease the long-standing misconception about insurance as irrelevant, inaccessible and expensive,” Tordesillas said.
